

Dr. Janet Glowicz is a nurse epidemiologist with Project Firstline at the CDC Division of Healthcare Quality Promotion. Dr. Glowicz has practiced infection prevention in outpatient and acute care settings. At the CDC, Janet has served as the subject matter expert for hand hygiene. Janet enjoys being onsite at healthcare facilities and interacting with frontline personnel as they implement infection control actions.

Anibal (A.J.) Ubaque began his career with in pharmacy as a Walmart pharmacy intern in 2010. He graduated with a PharmD from Howard University College of Pharmacy in 2013. Upon graduation, A.J. moved into a staff pharmacist position, and subsequently became the pharmacy manager at a Walmart in South Florida. In 2021, he took on the role of a Pharmacy Clinical Service Manager that supported Walmart Neighborhood Market Pharmacies in the Western U.S.. He used his passion for patient care and education to support Covid vaccination and testing initiatives.

In 2022, he became the Market Health and Wellness Director for a market in Southern California. He has used his position as the Patient Education Subcommittee Chair, and now the Southeast Regional Director for the National Hispanic Pharmacists Association to implement essential strategies to improve the health outcomes of underserved Hispanic communities. He has supported NHPA Chapter engagement in health fairs, webinars, and mentorships to drive public awareness, education, and pharmacist development.

Dr. Saria Saccocio is the Eastern Region Chief Medical Officer for CareMore Health. She brings 20+ years of clinical experience to our team. She has led award-winning quality programs, improving patient care across the continuum of health as a Chief Medical Officer for several health systems in the southeast. She received her Doctor of Medicine from the University of Florida, her Executive Master of Health Administration from the University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill, and completed her Family Medicine residency at the University of Miami before opening her own solo family practice. She continues to serve patients at the Greenville Free Medical Clinic.

Becker's Hospital Review has recognized Dr. Saccocio as one of the top 100 Hospital and Health System CMOs to Know and has been elected to the Alpha Omega Alpha Medical Honor Society. Her extensive civic and community involvement has included serving with many organizations such as: the Modern Healthcare Women

Advisory Board, board member for the Pisacano Leadership Foundation, South Carolina Hospital Association, United Way of Greenville County; Greenville Free Medical Clinic, Big Brothers Big Sisters of the Upstate, the South Carolina Academy of Family Physicians Board, and is an Alum of the Women's Leadership Institute and the Diversity Leadership Institute at Furman University.