

Asia Sullivan, PA-C, MPH

Physician Assistant

@coutureinclinic

Ambassador

Center for Disease Control & Prevention Let's Stop
HIV Together Campaign

Asia is a certified physician assistant living and working in Los Angeles. An Alabama native, she holds three degrees from the University of Alabama at Birmingham; her physician assistant degree, and both a Bachelor's and Master's of Public Health. She currently works full-time as a primary care provider with a focus on the LGBTQ+ community. Her areas of expertise include HIV/AIDS treatment and prevention, sexual health, and gender affirming hormone management. She is an ambassador to the Center for Disease Control & Prevention Let's Stop HIV Together Campaign, a national, evidence-based campaign which aims to empower communities, partners, and healthcare providers to reduce HIV stigma & promote treatment and prevention efforts. She is active on social media creating content focused on sexual health education and has over 100,000 followers across her platforms.

Hector Colón-Rivera, MD, MBA, MRO

Medical Director
Asociación Puertorriqueños en Marcha, Inc
Behavioral Health Program
President
Hispanic Caucus

Dr. Colón-Rivera is a distinguished quadruple board-certified adolescent, adult, and addiction psychiatrist of the Pennsylvania medical community. He has broad experience in community-based programs, emphasizing those that help increase access to severe mental illness and substance use disorders treatments in minorities.

He is the Medical Director of the Asociación Puertorriqueños en Marcha, Inc Behavioral Health Program (APM), a non-profit organization dedicated to improving Hispanic communities' quality of life through direct behavior and substance use disorder services in the Philadelphia region. APM has functions related to education, health, human services, and community, foster homes, & economic development.

Dr. Colon Rivera is also an attending physician at the Western Psychiatric Institute and Clinic and UPMC through their telemedicine services. He is a co-founder, volunteer, and member of CrearConSalud.org, a non-profit with the goals of supporting and conducting educational, research, and advocacy activities to increase public awareness and action regarding mental health in Puerto Rico and Latinx communities in the United States. Dr. Colon-Rivera serves as a clinical advisor for the Advisory on Alcohol and Other Drugs Committee for Pennsylvania under the Governor Wolf administration and the Opioid State Targeted Response Technical Assistance senior advisor Puerto Rico. He is currently a faculty member at the University of Pittsburgh Medical and the Einstein Medical Center.

He is the President of the Hispanic Caucus, a member of the Assembly, and the Council on Communication at the American Psychiatric Association. He has participated in over 65 national and international presentations/workshops/ writings on substance use and related disorders, social determinants, the technology used to expand mental health treatments, and mental health in adolescents. In his spare time, Dennis loves exploring new restaurants with his wife, chasing around his two young boys, and is an avid basketball player. He enjoys traveling and hopes to visit all seven continents one day.

Karinn Glover, MD, MPH

Assistant Professor of Psychiatry
Albert Einstein College of Medicine
Medical Director Behavioral Health
NYC CityBlock Health

After graduating from Howard University with a BA in History, Dr. Glover worked at Essence Magazine and as an Account Executive for Verizon. She followed her curiosity about medicine and ultimately attended SUNY Downstate College of Medicine and obtained an MPH from Columbia University's Mailman School of Public Health.

Currently Assistant Professor of Psychiatry at the Albert Einstein College of Medicine, Dr. Glover teaches psychopharmacology and psychotherapy to Psychiatry and Family Medicine residents. Her career as a consultant and educator have informed her expertise in the fields of health equity, workplace mental health, and organizational success.

Sara Hurtado Bares, MD

Associate Professor
University of Nebraska Medical Center
Co-Director
University of Nebraska Graduate Medical Education Curriculum

Sara Hurtado Bares, MD is an Associate Professor in the Division of Infectious Diseases at the University of Nebraska Medical Center. After receiving her undergraduate degree from Amherst College, Dr. Bares obtained her M.D. from Mount Sinai School of Medicine in New York City. She trained in Internal Medicine at the University of Chicago where she was an intern, resident, and chief resident. Following her residency, Dr. Bares stayed on at the University of Chicago to complete a fellowship in Infectious Diseases. An accomplished clinician, educator, and researcher, she cares for patients with HIV and other infections, teaches students in all levels of their medical training, and conducts clinical research. In the last few years, Dr. Bares has coordinated local and national responses to multiple epidemics including HIV, COVID-19, and mpox. She has also organized and provided outreach to Omaha's Hispanic communities in need of Spanish language health news and education. Dr. Bares has received numerous awards for her work, including the 2022 HIV Medical Association Research Award.